

CLUB TRANSFER WALKTHROUGH

1. Start by logging into your www.foireann.ie account.

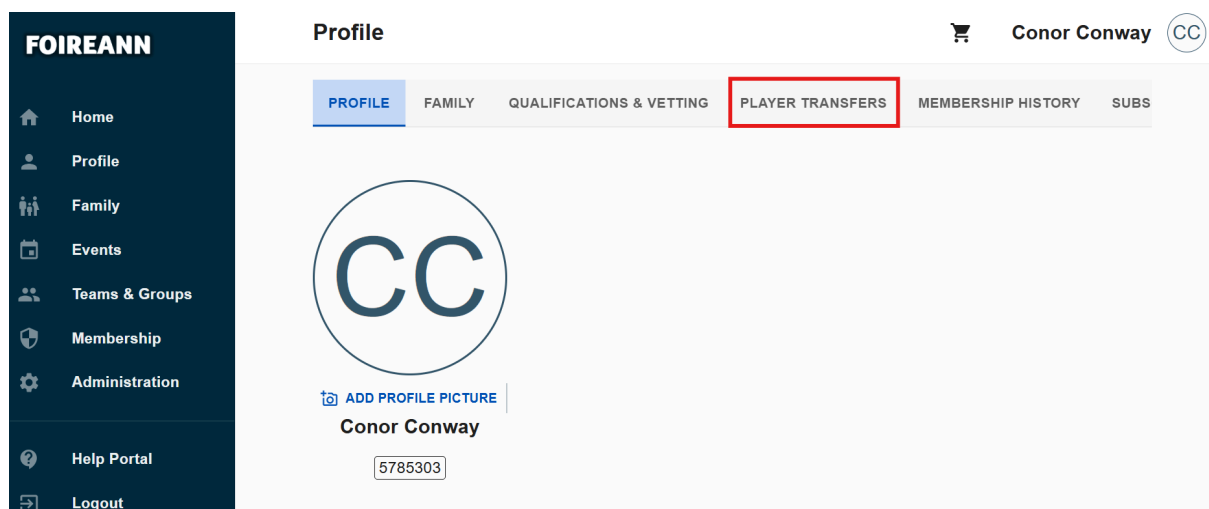

If you think you don't have a Foireann account check FAQ's at the bottom

2. Once Logged in go to "Profile" side tab from the homepage

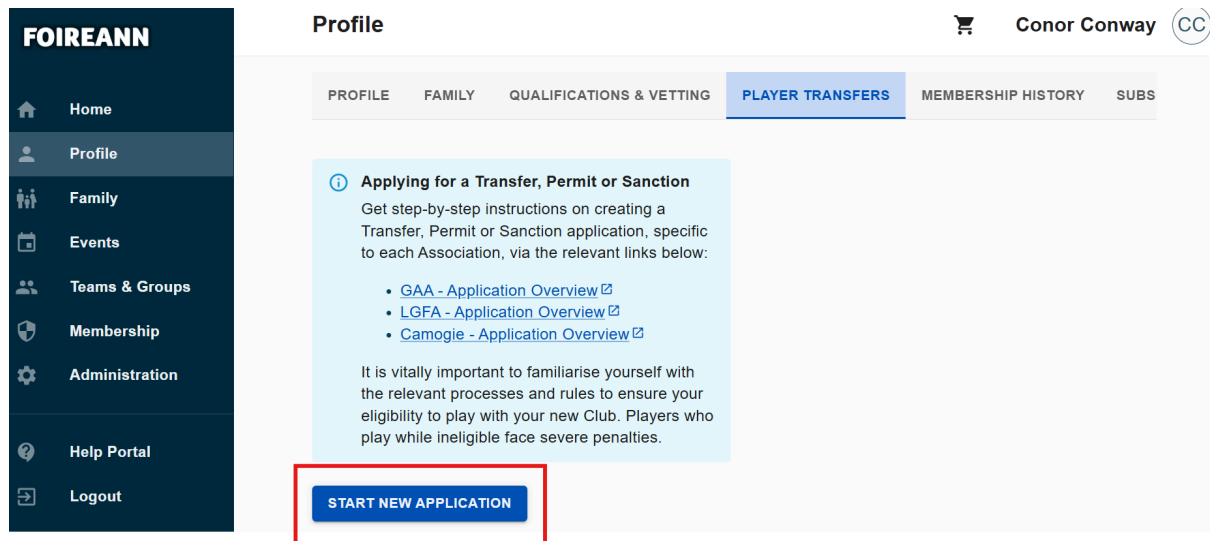

NB!! There is a button in profile - "Add another Club" - this does not constitute a transfer - More on this below in FAQ

3. Click "Player Transfers" from top layer of tabs

4. Click “Start New Application”

5. Fill in the form switching to Belgium GAA and Click submit.
6. Let your code officer know that you have filled in the transfer so it can be approved on our end.
7. You should receive an email regarding your transfer application - if you haven't, get in touch with your code officer

FAQ

What If I don't have a Foireann account?

Start by double checking you definitely don't. You need to have a username to sign in (which is not your email address) so start by searching your email account to see if you have a foireann from years ago you've forgotten about. You can also click the "forgot username" or "forgot password" through the website

What if I definitely don't have a foireann account?

- a) If you definitely don't have a foireann account but have been playing GAA for another club in the last few years -

The simplest thing is to create a new foireann account and set it up with YOUR OLD HOME CLUB. Once logged in with your old home club you need to follow the transfer process above to switch to Belgium GAA.

- b) If you definitely don't have a foireann account and you haven't played GAA in a long time -

Talk to your code officer about next steps, each case will be different.

I didn't receive an email to regarding my transfer application

Are you sure you didn't click "add another club" - See below - this does not constitute a transfer
